ZANESVILLE, Ohio, April 5, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

A most extraordinary phenomenon was observed near the village of Taylorsville, a few miles from this city, about a week ago. Mr. Thomas Inman, whom your reporter can vouch for as a respectable farmer of unquestionable truth and veracity, related the circumstances to the writer, and, with his son, who was also an eye witness, is willing to make oath to the truth of this statement.

One evening about two weeks ago, while Mr. Inman and his son, a young man, were returning to their home from Taylorsville, they saw a light, which they describe as looking like a "burning brush pile," near the zenith, descending rapidly towards the earth, with a loud, roaring noise. It struck the ground in the road, a short distance from them. The blazing object flickered and flared for a few moments and then faded into darkness, as a man dressed in a complete suit of black and carrying a lantern emerged from it. The man walked a few paces and stepped into a buggy, which had not been observed before, by either Mr. Inman or his son. There was no horse attached to this supernatural vehicle, but no sooner had the man taken his seat than it started to run, noiselessly but with great velocity, along the highway, and this it continued to do until it reached a deep gully, into which it plunged, when buggy, man and lantern suddenly disappeared as mysteriously as they came.

This phenomenon is certainly an extraordinary and unexplainable one, and sounds more like the vagary of a crazed brain than anything else. But both Mr. Inman and his son, who are sober men and not given to superstitious opinions, agree precisely in their statements, and maintain that they are strictly true. If it was an optical delusion, superinduced by a meteor or "jack o' lantern," it is not strange that the same fancied appearance could be conjured up in the minds of two men at the same time? Here is a chance for scientists to explain the fantastical optical and other phenomena and delusions which follow in the train of, and are suggested by, some strange and unexpected sight or occurrence.

A most beautiful phenomenon was observed on Friday se'nnight, at Hull, from the S. W., resembling an immense moon, with a black bar across, on its first appearance; it seemed then gradually to form itself into seven small distinct moons, or globes of fire, which disappeared for the space of a few seconds. Its re-appearance was equally brilliant, at first shewing itself like what we are told of the face of the moon, afterwards in five circular balls, and lastly, like several small stars, which gradually faded away, leaving the whole atmosphere beautifully illuminated. During the time of its being visible, a faint blue light fell upon the surrounding objects like that of distant torches; and, when gone, the appearance was beautifully serene.
